Murder Mystery Turn your hen party in to a crime scene and become involved in a Murder Mystery Dinner where you play the suspects and where one of you is the Murderer. We send along two actors to co-ordinate events and move the plot along. Each of the guests is given a character to play for the evening. These characters are based on famous people, so you may be asked to come along as Lady Gaga or Patsy or Eddie from Ab Fab. The plot is based around a group of famous women who have been invited on to a cruise by their very rich and, equally famous, friend. It is not long into the cruise when an unfortunate death occurs. Now who could that be I wonder??? You have to solve the case whilst eating and drinking as is befitting a hen night or weekend.

The event works for between 7 and 24 guests. Each guest is sent an invitation letter prior to the event explaining their character, giving tips for costumes and what you have to do. The bride-to-be and groom-to-be are interwoven into the plot as integral characters, as are any other facts you wish to give us about your guests. This is a fun event from start to finish.

This event is run as a murder mystery dinner and can run on the Friday or Saturday in the dining room or the white room, depending on numbers.

£30pp (you provide your own food)

£75pp for a fully catered 3 course meal, served and cleared away so you can workout who done it. Our fantastic team from Aperyer will come in and serve you at the table. Please see our three-course menu for details.
